

Abstract Of The Disclosure

5       The present invention is directed to an industrial nonwoven compound fabric comprising one or more layers of nano-denier continuous filaments and at least one layer of a strong and durable substrate, wherein said nonwoven compound fabric has an improved barrier performance as measured by the hydrostatic head to barrier layer basis weight ratio.